Wednesday, January 5, 2011 I love the hair! I mean, I love loving hair. The reasons why I love hair so much? It's soft, it's bouncy, it smells good and it's easy to work with. For a while, before I started teaching at The Only Academy, I was a hairstylist. Not sure if you know that I am a big science geek/enthusiast. At that time, I thought this would be a great way to combine my artsy skills and geeky knowledge - hair. I did a lot of different styles and formulas for people. Then, I opened up The Only

Academy and started teaching. After a year, I was doing hair and education for The Only Academy and then the baby boom hit. We began, as many professional salons do, to hire people. I hired a part time stylist and a full time educator. We have tried a couple of different ways to run a business and in addition, The Only Academy worked for us. Now, with the new baby, we are going back to our roots and hiring only educators. I love teaching, I love hair and I love people. A friend of mine from 4-H told me about Mama Bear and me, a few years back, so I am going to write about some of the stuff I have learned along the way. Use these products regularly to keep your nails nice and healthy! They are specially formulated with vitamins and oils that help soothe and protect. Nails will look healthy and strong. Use this like any other moisturizer and avoid rubbing your hands together. If you moisturize, do it before you wash your hands. If you wait until after you wash your hands, the temperature of your skin may change the effectiveness of the moisturizer and cause your hands to feel dry. While taking a bath or shower, squeeze some of the conditioner into the ends of your hair. It will add moisture and shininess. Here's how to do the Swedish Curl: Use a large amount of conditioner. Make sure to rub in from the bottom to the top of your hair. A good way to give it volume is to just pull your hair back and slide your fingers through the hair, pulling both ends of the hair together. I have read that a really good way to give a really tight curl or a full swoop is to take your fingers and put them on the front of your hair, pull up, and
