But when I just use the query with the subquery, it works. For example: select col1,col2 from table1 inner join table2 inner join table3 where table1.col3 = table2.col4 where col1 = 45 What am I doing wrong? A: Your code is syntactically wrong (missing parantheses) and is not semantically right, meaning that a count of subquery results is not what you actually want. Still, you could use an outer join and count the resulting records, maybe like this: select sum(records.count) from ((select count(*) as count from (select col1,col2 from table1 inner join table2 inner join table3 where table1.col3 = table2.col4)
