The Dungeons of Pherso Explore the Dungeons of Pherso, a living world with a vast variety of dungeons! “Whose castles are these?” The former lands of the east of the Lands Between were destroyed, and the ancient castles were left abandoned. After the cataclysm, they were replaced by towering and beautiful buildings protected by strong castles. These castles were built by magi who sought to secure their power, and they stand as the epitome of the lords’ pride. However, the attackers of the Lands Between will occasionally come out to seek the Lords’ hiding places, and who is to say that they will not attack? “The guardians of the Oprhending Mine have disappeared... I see no signs of intruders!” Even so, the former guardian of the mine has not seen any intruders. In the distant past, goblins appeared in the Oprhending Mine, a disaster took place, and the spirits of the goblins still lie abandoned... A ghostly gust of wind blow by, and the goblin’s haunting voice echoes as it steals away your voice. The huge amount of gold you find is surely unimaginable to you, and now you are in possession of the stolen treasure. However, it is evident that this has been the handiwork of goblins, so what is the master mind behind it? “Goblin Castle of the Oprhending Mine of the Lands Between” “A majestic castle...” You have entered a magnificent goblin castle that has become a veritable treasure trove. It is said that the tremendous wealth gathered in Pherso will someday be used to repay the Magi, and that the treasure will be used as a means of easing the terror of the Magi. However, the goblins do not seem to be content, and they are in the midst of a war of retributions against the masters, whose castle is the source of their wealth... Is the goblin king about to wage a war against their guests? BUNNIES RUN FREE! “
