-Class: Orbital Strike -A class for specialized close air support of ground units -You can command up to 4 special weaponized drones-Each drone has a different drone that you can control -You can lock down enemy vehicles and alien bosses to avoid them from getting away when you are near them. The RedZone: -Your drones can be equipped with high-tech weapons -Designed and programmed by me. The RedZone is set in a remote area of Russia, an area of old mines and defunct nuclear plants. This place is full of mysterious things, leftovers from the aliens. The area has also grown a big network of underworld over the years. The RedZone is divided into six different sections, one of them is RedZone One which is the center of the game. It is the place you are playing the game now. It's a war zone, with fighting and using weapons. The enemy will shoot at you with a variety of weapons, like bullets and missiles.It is dangerous and you will need to fight with these weapons. The game is a free open world and you can play anywhere and any time you want, unlike most other games. Try to survive this war zone. There are a large number of enemies, and you can lose your drones if you don't play defensive. The drone can run out of power and you will lose it until you repair it. Try to master the game, try to find the hidden weapons and you will win. Key Features: 1.Unique high-tech weapons for you to use on ground 2.A big number of enemies to kill 3.Multiple maps 4.Good game design for the player who loves to fight About Me I am a developer of FPS games, my goal is to create games that are fun to play, and bring good gameplay and interesting story. My games are often with "high fantasy" themes like dragons, robots, vampires, flying space ships. I also love realistic combat games like Call of Duty and BattlefieldQ: countdown timer between 1 and 12 with a user input number between 1 and 12 I'm going to try to explain with an example, but this is not homework, its a challenge of my own I came up with, the challenge is as follows: I need to have a countdown timer start from a number 1 to 12. The user could input the number. EXAMPLE: User inputs "7" --> countdown timer:
