While there are companies such as Nintendo that revere their major intellectual properties, and third-party developers who may focus on one or . First-responders across the country are no longer allowed to use a technique called "drive-stun" because it can cause "unnecessary pain" or even death, according to new guidelines from the National Safety Council. Drive-stun involves hitting or striking someone with a baton in order to subdue them, but the council says the over-use of the technique often results in serious injuries or death. "A drive-stun uses force by driving a weapon into a person to strike them. It's used in many different ways: some in a baton fashion, to drive the weapon into someone's leg or arm to immobilize them," the council said in a statement. "But the technique can be used in different ways, depending on the situation and the skills of the user. "The new manual will help first-responders and other frontline responders, from law enforcement to medical personnel, reduce injuries and fatalities by eliminating unnecessary pain or death caused by over-use of this type of force," the council added. The council has urged agencies, including the police, to review their use of the technique and report any instances of it being used, over-enthusiastically or otherwise. The news comes

It is the 3D extension of the 2D RPG maker (RPG Maker X).Q: How to remove over- and under-circles in a numerical colormap? I would like to remove the over/underscores around the color values in the colormap below, as in the image below, I have used zindex to colorize the background of my plot. With zindex,I am able to colorize the background of my plot, but I am unable to remove the "underscores" from the colorbar. The script I am using is this: from mpl_toolkits.mplot3d import Axes3D import matplotlib.pyplot as plt from scipy.ndimage import measure_arrays import numpy as np import matplotlib.colors as cc # plot background ax = plt.gca(projection='3d') plt.switch_backend('Agg') ax.background_gradient(low=0.1, high=0.2, colors=['#DFCFF0', '#FFFC3', '#EFDFFF', '#C6D2FF', '#A9E1FF'], direction='z') plt.gca().set_zorder(1000) plt.switch_view(view=5, zdir='x') plt.gca().axes.tick_params(axis='both', which='both', labelsz=8) # create array of 2d gauss arr = np.asarray(np.vstack((np.ones((5, 5, 1)), np.zeros((5, 5, 1))))).reshape((5, 5, 1)) # apply col
