As you know, I like to make the same things over and over. To change the art direction, I use to travel a lot with the game. As I was flying in the sky, I found an Earth that I had never seen. This new world is called Vetropolis, and it is made up of the highest and most daring city that we have ever seen. The dictator of this place is Derplat. As you know, you don't get along with some people, and you do not like the idea to fight with the enemy and destroy it. But when it comes to defending a place like this, you can't stand by and wait for the world to change. Vetropolis can be claimed as ancient ruins that used to be a major city. Now it's covered with the concrete layer of modern civilization. The people who live in the city are not the owners, but the enemies. In exchange for their birth, they have to protect Vetropolis at any cost. Because of their dedication and bravery, the conflict between the two ways, occurs naturally. At the top of Vetropolis lives a community of Japanese woodwork. They are the elite of the world, a superior race. But the world is not as clean as it should be. Not only do they have the concept of beauty at all, but they have also made many discoveries that humanity had until now concealed. If a person can be explained by the concept of "science", they would be recognized as reckless and cocky. And they are so full of energy, they want to overtake everything. This kind of person is considered to be a vulture. And they are so sure of themselves, that they think that they will not be wrong. But the scientific way of thinking is more than just the idea. It is the capacity to apply this idea to make things that should be created. To put science into practice is to create the future, even if it is only a small bit. The first victory of the scientific society is the victory for the race of people and mankind. The concept of science can be said to mean a catalyst for change. And it's not just the world, but also the people who live there. There are "dark vessels" that were left behind from the ancient civilization. These are the ruins of the original, original, pre-human civilization that began to exist. Next, the people who lived in them found the substance called "Med

By: James Davenport Join us now for a brief tour of the kind of world where you are our Welcome. We'll take you along for a glimpse of our world as we work and play. Get a feel for what the days are like in Road Redemption, where your decisions impact your world. We've focused on the story behind the world and what's going on with each major area. We'll also discuss some of the decisions we made about the visuals, and some of the challenges we had. This video is not finished. So far, we've reached the beginning of the Second Era. Can you believe it's been 2 years since we launched the game? It's been an amazing ride so far, and there's so much more in store for us! We'll be here to answer your questions, whether you're new to Road Redemption or an old hand. You can keep up to date with the Road Redemption forums, and see behind the scenes work at Road Redemption on Deviantart. There has been nothing but positive feedback so far about the new version. As you'll see, there is more to it than just adding an auto-map and making a few UI changes. The new version is still a pre-alpha. A lot of things haven't been tested yet, and there are changes that haven't been made available to the public yet. We're looking forward to getting your feedback on the new Road Redemption. Thanks for watching! Please Like and Subscribe for more games content and projects to be made! Support Road Redemption by purchasing a premium version of the game. Thank you! Have you seen those crazy, random cookies? I have been seeing different people putting little things on their cookies. Last time I was at Keds I noticed on some of the banana bread samples. We did a photo shoot for the Cinnamon Roll Cookie Bakes Bread! This time, we're getting rid of all the cinnamon and just use melted NUTELLA butter. I think it's a much better compliment to a cinnamon roll. So next time you're eating cookies take a look. They do make a great addition to any cookie. I am planning on putting a bunch on my batch of Churros too! Tuesday, May 29, 2010 I love pasta! I used to be very slim. Now my weight is ok, but just a little on the side heavier that I'd like. What we had for the last meal of May was the Shrimp scampi. Below are some photos and recipes of that entree, and the general overall splurges. Enjoy the recipes! If you know me you know that I love to eat! I'm always interested, but if it's not food safe, then I won't eat it. Recently, my husband and I had a "play date", and I had the best dish there. I passed on the Paella and was happy eating. I asked him what he would get if I took him out to eat? He said, I know, I like Hooters (my next meal). It sounded good, but I wasn't sure if it was something that we would both enjoy. The last time I ate there I didn't feel like it was a fast food place. Food was good but we both felt like it was too fast. I definitely didn't want to be eating that much. I went there and watched what he was getting. It has a lot of healthy options and he goes for most of the healthy options. So much so that it's almost like one of his main dishes, like they have a broccoli salad, or salad bar with lots of nutrients. Hooters made a lot of sense! I was eating something delicious, healthy and low calories! They had great prices too! It wasn't too

It's a simple question: James is madly in love with Suzy, and vice versa. He's a vampire - she's human; she's a programmer - he's a biologist. Their relationship is no one's business, of course... until Suzy is brutally murdered and James needs to find the killer. To do that, he's hired the 'best digital detective in the world': Meredith, a sharp-talking AI with a taste for blood, and a hell of a software arsenal at her disposal. At first, James suspects the work of a disgruntled coder, but when Suzy's seemingly unrelated death hits too close to home, he can't help but come to think that there's a deeper and darker conspiracy at work. And when James uncovers the truth, will he find that he's been playing the biggest game of his life? Key Features: -Includes more than 200 puzzles, hidden messages, haiku and art pieces. -A technologically-augmented human intelligence that's completely at your disposal in a bid to unravel mysteries. -A tale of mystery, romance and revenge, providing multiple endings through choices you make along the way. -No impossible problems to solve and no skill barriers. Simply enjoy the story! -A technical marriage between a text adventure and a visual novel. -Stages and social encounters, with support for Japanese, English, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Polish, Russian and Czech, and with the option to switch between languages at any time in the game. -A gorgeous and atmospheric visual novel featuring a dark and romantic mood, with gorgeous characters and astonishing artwork. Key Mechanics: -At your disposal: A technically-augmented human intelligence in the form of a smart AI (Artificial Intelligence). Its language skills are at your fingertips and, by using it, you can achieve a level of understanding between James and Meredith that no human could ever enjoy. This increases as you choose to answer her questions, show empathy and bond with her. Depending on how well you use the AI, it will guide you and open certain doors when interacting with certain characters, and can also even solve some of the puzzles. -Easy-to-play, easy-to-read, easy-to-
