RANGE1 = [1,2,3,4,5,6,7,8,9,10] RANGE2 = [2,3,5,7,9] This is what I have: def countRange(start,end): for start,end in RANGE1: return "Count: " + str(count) However, this does not work because count is not an actual number. How do I fix this? A: You can use list comprehension: def countRange(start,end): print([item for item in RANGE1 if item not in RANGE2]) The print will show you the number of items in RANGE1 that aren't in RANGE2.

Amazon and Disney are joining hands to create a new film division to explore ways to bring Amazon's original video content to the big screen. Sources tell The Hollywood Reporter that the two entertainment giant studios, along with DreamWorks Animation and Participant Media, are launching the new film division, which is called Amazon Studios.

Amazon is expected to spend more than $100 million to produce movies and television shows. The aim of Amazon Studios is to go beyond big-budget movies like Hollywood's blockbuster releases to create television series and movies that have more of a small-screen feel, such as the television adaptation of Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman and the television adaptation of Woody Allen's Midnight in Paris.

Amazon is already a major player in the television space and the online retailer's original shows include Emmy Award-winning Transparent and acclaimed series with names like

Mozart in the Jungle, Wonderstruck and The Man in the High Castle. Amazon Studios is expected to develop TV shows that will cost less to make than the films that most Hollywood studios are known for. Disney has been uncharacteristically silent on plans for the future of the Disney+ streaming service, which was launched in November, save for a tweet that highlighted one of Disney's own original 6d1f23a050
